Course title: Internship
Course code: INSH 3003 ACGH
Programs offering course: Arts and Sciences
Language of instruction: English
U.S. semester credits: 3
Contact hours: 45
Term: Fall 2020

Course Description

INSH 3003 will provide you with credit for professional and academic experience through internships with local organizations. While working at the internship site, you will gain new abilities and skills and develop self-confidence from pursuing challenging goals. The academic component will help you navigate the challenges that you are likely to face while interning and afford you a greater understanding of your strengths and limitations related to your work experience and to Ghana. You will thereby get the opportunity to explore or affirm possible career aspirations. Other benefits for taking this course include improving your employment opportunities, obtaining academic credit for a meaningful work experience, and enhancing your resume.

Learning Objectives

By completing this course, students will:

- Gain an understanding of work culture of Ghanaian organizations and how to work within these organizations.
- Reflect on the unique learning experiences that an internship in a Ghanaian organization provides.
- Demonstrate the ability to perform tasks and functions assigned at the organization and also be able to perform certain job functions previously unknown.
- Increase their preparedness for the world of work through practical experience.
- Demonstrate the ability to work through challenging situations constructively through open discussions with staff of organization, fellow students and one-on-one interactions with the instructor.
Course Prerequisites

There are no course prerequisites but there are specific guidelines which must be met for you to obtain full credit for your internship. You must participate in the internship according to the guidelines furnished by your internship site supervisor. You must be punctual and work to the fullest of your abilities for whatever amount of time you commit to at the internship site. If you should have any concerns on-site, you should share these with your on-site supervisor first. Should your concerns not be addressed, you can then report to the course instructor and/or the internship coordinator. Most employers expect their interns to have a working knowledge of Microsoft Office software. You will need the same knowledge to work on the academic component of the course. Any other personal skill will be a plus.

Course Requirements

Internship Class

There will be 13 weeks of internship classes and one on-one meetings. Each class will last for an hour and one-on-one meetings will last for a maximum of 20 minutes per intern.

Participation is valued as meaningful contribution in the digital and tangible classroom, utilizing the resources and materials presented to students as part of the course. Meaningful contribution requires students to be prepared in advance of each class session and to have regular attendance. Students must clearly demonstrate they have engaged with the materials as directed.
You are expected to be punctual at every class or one-on-one meeting. See schedule of classes below for details.

Maximum 26 points obtainable, 13 hours total.

Reflect and Respond

This will be the very first assignment. It would be assigned on the first day of class to be submitted in the subsequent class. You will be expected to reflect on why you chose to take this course and write down your thoughts based on your reflections.

Writing up reflection - maximum 4 points obtainable, 1 hour total.

Internship Goals (3)

Set three internship goals indicating desired accomplishments. Goals are due no later than Week 4 and should be submitted to the instructor in class.

Writing up internship goals - maximum 2 points obtainable per goal, 1 hour total.

Internship Working Hours

Work and complete the minimum number of hours specified in the syllabus for appropriate semester credit. Time sheets should be submitted for inspection during one-on-one sessions. A final time sheet is due on Week 13 and should be submitted with the Internship Final Report. Note that working hours do not include travel time to and from your internship site but does include any work done off-site on tasks assigned by your internship supervisor.

Working on-site or off-site on duties assigned by internship supervisor - maximum 10 points obtainable, 104 hours total.

Daily Journal Entries

Writing up journal entries for each workday - Maximum 12 points obtainable, 3 hours total.

Reflective Journals (3)
After 8 weeks of internship, you would be expected to submit a weekly reflective journal. Each journal should be two to three pages long. Reflective Journals are due on days that internship classes are held and should cover work done in the week prior. Hard copies should be submitted to the instructor before class begins or during one-on-one sessions.

Writing up each journal - maximum 4 points obtainable per journal, 3 hours total.

Internship Final Report

The Internship Final Report is due no later than Week 13. You should submit a comb-bound hard copy to the instructor. The report should cover all your internship experience and should be between fifteen (15) to twenty-five (25) pages long, typed double space. Other details will be discussed in class (see schedule of classes).

Writing up final report - maximum 30 points obtainable, 10 hours total.

Attendance

Important Rules to Note:

1. Do not be late for class and do not leave early.
2. Two absences from class without permission for extenuating circumstances reduces your overall grade score by 10 points.
3. Do not bring food/drinks to the class or eat in class.
4. Late completion and submission of any assignment reduces your marks by 3 points.
5. There should be no distractions and disruptions in class so please turn off all mobile phones and other electronic gadgets that beep, buzz, or play little songs whilst in class. Such gadgets should be put away during class.
6. Respect yourself and more importantly, be respectful towards your fellow classmates and to me.
7. Since the course is an interactive one, I encourage you to participate fully and be open about your experiences, thoughts, and feelings.
8. Ensure that you abide by the time you set to work at your internship site. Two absences from your internship site without permission from your on-site supervisor for extenuating circumstances reduces your overall grade score by 10 points. Note also that you will have to notify the course instructor and internship coordinator that you have been granted permission to be absent.

9. Ensure that you have read this course outline thoroughly and understand what is expected of you in this course. Failure to meet the standards set here with the excuse of not having known will not be tolerated.

10. I have tried to make this course outline as detailed as possible. I however reserve the right to modify or add to any part of it based upon class interest and unforeseen circumstances.

Academic assignments are required in addition to completing the necessary on-site work hours for the semester. You are required to complete 104 work hours at your internship sites, 18 hours working on academic assignments and 13 hours of internship class and one-on-one meetings. Success depends on accomplishing ALL the assignments, by the specified due dates, and in a satisfactory manner. All academic assignments should have a cover page showing the course code and course title, your name and index number, and title of the assignment. All academic assignments should also be typed double space using Times New Roman font size 12. Note that if you fail to submit assignments in the correct format or fail to submit on time, you will lose marks. You will also lose marks if you make avoidable grammatical errors and/or typographical errors. Be advised therefore that you should read over your assignments carefully and correct all such errors before you print and submit them.

The format of each academic assignment will be discussed in class before it is assigned so you know exactly what is expected of you. You must therefore pay attention in class and ask for clarification where it is needed. Assignment details are outlined in the "Course Requirements" section.

Grading

You will receive a letter grade for this course in accordance with the CIEE recommended grading scale.
N.B. Course schedule is subject to change due to study tours, excursions, and local holidays. Final schedules will be included in the final syllabus provided to students on site.
