Course code: SPAN 1001 MASP
Programs offering course: Madrid Open Campus Block
Open Campus Track: Language, Literature, and Culture
Language of instruction: Spanish
U.S. semester credits: 3.00
Contact hours: 60.00
Term: Spring Block I 2020

Course Description

This course is designed for students with one or two semesters of college-level Spanish. Spanish Language Beginning I seeks to provide a basic repertoire of linguistic elements and sufficient vocabulary to meet these communicative goals. Students should be able to use some simple grammatical structures and in general be able to enunciate in a clear, comprehensible way. By the end of this course, students are able to communicate when carrying out everyday tasks, understand phases and common expressions utilized in day-to-day life, and describe aspects of their own past as well as developing conversational skills to inquiries that may arise to their most immediate needs.

Learning Objectives

By completing this course, students will:

- Emphasize verbal communication by complimenting through Spanish grammar.
- Carry out important work on tasks, both inside and outside the classroom, fostering a realistic and engaging learning environment which caters to linguistic needs.
- Develop their language skills by applying grammatical structures needed to accomplish tasks to relevant information throughout the context, in turn making the student culturally aware.

Course Prerequisites

This course is designed for students with at least one semester of college-level in Spanish.

Methods of Instruction

Communicative student-centered task-based approach.

The structure of each week is as follows:

- The tasks will be organised by Weekly Topics, so that each session of a week is related to the others.
- At the end of each week, students will have to do a written and oral presentation and a mini test with a focus on the grammatical/lexical content covered along the week.
- Students will be provided with extra material as homework to reinforce the grammatical and lexical aspects seen in the classroom.
- Each of the presentations and tests will count for the final grade.

Assessment and Final Grade

1. Participation 20%
2. Daily homework 20%
3. Oral Presentations in class and Written Weekly Projects 20%
4. Weekly Assessments 20%
5. Final Test (Oral and written) 20%

TOTAL 100%

Course Requirements
Participation

Participation is valued as meaningful contribution in the digital and tangible classroom, utilizing the resources and materials presented to students as part of the course. Meaningful contribution requires students to be prepared in advance of each class session and to have regular attendance. Students must clearly demonstrate they have engaged with the materials as directed, for example, through classroom discussions, online discussion boards, peer-to-peer feedback (after presentations), interaction with guest speakers, and attentiveness on co-curricular and outside-of-classroom activities.

Daily homework

Students will be given written homework on a daily basis to reinforce the grammatical and lexical aspects covered in the classroom and will be checked by the instructor in class everyday. When homework has to be turned in, no extension can be granted. Failing to complete their daily homework will result in a lower final grade of the course.

Oral Presentations in class and Written Weekly Projects

At the end of each week, students will have to present and deliver a presentation of their weekly project. Both the delivery of the presentation and the written project will be assessed. Failing to complete their oral and written weekly projects will result in a lower final grade of the course.

Weekly Assessments

At the end of each week, students will have to sit a mini-test where they will be assessed on the grammatical and lexical content of the week. Each of the weekly assessment will count for the final grade.

Final Test (Oral and written)

A final test will take place on the last week of the course. The four skills will be assessed and it will make up for 20% of the final grade.

Attendance

Regular class attendance is required throughout the program, and all absences will result in a lower participation grade for any affected CIEE course. Due to the intensive schedules for Open Campus and Short Term programs, absences that constitute more than 10% of the total course will result in a written warning.

Students who transfer from one CIEE class to another during the add/drop period will not be considered absent from the first session(s) of their new class, provided they were marked present for the first session(s) of their original class. Otherwise, the absence(s) from the original class carry over to the new class and count against the grade in that class.

For CIEE classes, excessively tardy (over 15 minutes late) students must be marked absent.

Attendance policies also apply to any required co-curricular class excursion or event, as well as to any required field placement. Students may not miss placement/work hours at an internship or service learning site unless approved in advance by the Academic Director and placement supervisor. All students must complete all of the requisite 100 minimum work hours on site at the internship or service learning placement to be eligible for academic credit.

Students who miss class for personal travel, including unforeseen delays that arise as a result of personal travel, will be marked as absent. No make-up or re-sit opportunity will be provided.

Attendance policies also apply to any required class excursion, with the exception that some class excursions cannot accommodate any tardiness, and students risk being marked as absent if they fail to be present at the appointed time.

Absences for classes will lead to the following penalties:

N.B. Course schedule is subject to change due to study tours, excursions, or local holidays. Final schedules will be included in the final syllabus provided to students on site.
