Course title: Spanish Language - Beginning I
Course code: SPAN 1001 MEME
Programs offering course: Yucatan Open Campus Block
Open Campus Track: Language, Literature, and Culture
Language of instruction: Spanish
U.S. semester credits: 3.00
Contact hours: 60.00
Term: Spring Block I 2021

Course Description

This course is for students with little or no formal Spanish. The course provides a basic repertoire of linguistic elements and sufficient vocabulary to meet these communicative goals. Students should be able to use some simple grammatical structures and in general be able to pronounce in a clear, comprehensible way. By the end of this course, students can communicate when carrying out everyday tasks, understand phrases and expressions of common use, and describe aspects of their own past as well as issues related to their most immediate needs.

Learning Objectives

By completing this course, students will:

- Develop the basic standards to comprehend and produce communicative Spanish speeches in the form of oral interventions and written compositions.
- Apply grammatical structures needed to accomplish given communicative tasks, as well as the vocabulary and relevant information about the context (cultural awareness).
- Construct communicative speeches that allow for exchange with native speakers on simple, practical subjects regarding everyday life and the personal sphere.

Course Prerequisites

None

Methods of Instruction

Students will do their learning both inside and outside the classroom. The goal is to create a real and engaging learning environment that caters for their linguistic needs throughout the course. On each individual task, students will learn and practice the grammatical structures needed to accomplish the task, as well as the vocabulary and relevant information about the context (cultural awareness).

In the classroom, an emphasis will be placed on communication over grammar, but students will also have access to extra material to practice on their own or do as homework to consolidate key grammar points and basic language structures.

The structure of each week is as follows:

- The tasks will be organized by weekly topics, so that each session of a week is related to the others.
- At the end of each week, students will have to do a written and oral presentation and a mini test with a focus on the grammatical/lexical content covered over the week.
- Students will be provided with extra material as homework to reinforce the grammatical and lexical aspects seen in the classroom.
- Each of the presentations and tests will count for the final grade.

Note: Each class session is 2h 30mins long. Class sessions will be supplemented by a maximum of 4 out-of-classroom activities to be scheduled at short notice and in accordance with topics discussed in class.

Assessment and Final Grade
1. Daily Homework                            15%
2. In-class Oral Presentations and Written Weekly Projects  25%
3. Weekly Assessments                        20%
4. Final Test (Oral and Written)              25%
5. Class Participation                       15%
   TOTAL                                        100%

Course Requirements

Daily Homework

Students will be given written homework on a daily basis to reinforce the grammatical and lexical topics covered in the classroom and will be checked by the instructor in class every day. When homework has to be turned in, no extension can be granted. Failing to complete their daily homework will result in a lower final grade for the course.

In-class Oral Presentations and Written Weekly Projects

Each week students complete a short written project, which they will present to the class through an oral presentation at the end of the respective week. Both the delivery of the presentation and the written project will be assessed. Failing to complete their oral and written weekly projects will result in a lower final grade for the course.

Weekly Assessments

At the end of each week, students will have to sit a mini-test where they will be assessed on the grammatical and lexical content of the week. Each of the weekly assessment will count for the final grade.

Final Test (Oral and Written)

The Final test that will take place in the last week of the course covers the four skills of language learning: speaking, listening, reading, writing.

Class Participation

Participation is valued as meaningful contribution in the digital and tangible classroom, utilizing the resources and materials presented to students as part of the course. Meaningful contribution requires students to be prepared in advance of each class session and to have regular attendance. Students must clearly demonstrate they have engaged with the materials as directed, for example, through classroom discussions, online discussion boards, peer-to-peer feedback (after presentations), interaction with guest speakers, and attentiveness on co-curricular and outside-of-classroom activities. Each student is expected to actively participate in class, and thereby help assure the effective functioning of the course as well as his/her individual learning progress. Participation and the investment of an appropriate amount of time in the preparation of each session will be taken into account in the determination of final grades.

Attendance

Regular class attendance is required throughout the program, and all absences will result in a lower participation grade for any affected CIEE course. Due to the intensive schedules for Open Campus and Short Term programs, absences that constitute more than 10% of the total course will result in a written warning.

Students who transfer from one CIEE class to another during the add/drop period will not be considered absent from the first session(s) of their new class, provided they were marked present for the first session(s) of their original class. Otherwise, the absence(s) from the original class carry over to the new class and count against the grade in that class.

For CIEE classes, excessively tardy (over 15 minutes late) students must be marked absent.

Attendance policies also apply to any required co-curricular class excursion or event, as well as to any required field placement. Students may not miss placement/work hours at an internship or service learning site unless approved in advance by the Academic Director and placement supervisor. All students must complete all of the requisite 100 minimum work hours on site at the internship or service learning placement to be eligible for academic credit.

Students who miss class for personal travel, including unforeseen delays that arise as a result of personal travel, will be marked as absent. No make-up or re-sit opportunity will be provided.

Attendance policies also apply to any required class excursion, with the exception that some class excursions cannot accommodate any tardiness, and students risk being marked as absent if they fail to be present at the appointed time.

Absences for classes will lead to the following penalties:

<table>

N.B. Course schedule is subject to change due to study tours, excursions, or local holidays. Final schedules will be included in the final syllabus provided to students on site.

Weekly Schedule

Week 1

Class: 1.1 Intro to the Class and Creating a Personal Profile

The instructor will present the syllabus to the students and explain the methods of instruction used. The students provide information about previous knowledge, learning expectations and reasons for taking a course in Spanish.

Class: 1.2 Formal and Informal Greetings

This session covers the topic of register, providing examples of formal and informal interaction. Students will review the Spanish alphabet, pronunciation, and spelling. Grammatical subjects will be singular and plural nouns, gender and articles.

Class: 1.3 Greetings/Giving and Asking for Personal Information

Students will organize a contact list. Students practice gathering information in the target language by practicing how to ask yes/no questions and using interrogative pronouns. A second focus will be the present tense of ser and its uses as well as the present tense of regular verbs.

Class: 1.4 Family and Personal Relationships

The subject of this class is “talking about family”. We will practice again asking questions of information and clarification and enlarge our vocabulary by entering a new semantic field. Grammatical subjects will be the present tense, possessive, adjectives, and numbers. Students will share their final version of the project of the week, creating a personal profile to be posted on the course site.

Week 2

Class: 2.1 Describe the Study Center Neighborhood
Project: Create a slide show Life in Mérida 1: Your routine, your neighborhood

Students will take a field trip to the Historic Center where they explore the study center neighborhood and find out what it has to offer. In the second half of the class, after returning to the classroom, they will create a guide for first-time visitors to the area, listing useful stores and resources and summarizing essential information about them.

Class: 2.2 Give and Ask for Directions

Students will learn to find their bearings in Mérida and practice asking for and giving directions through role plays. They will also familiarize themselves with the city’s public transportation system and will have to make suggestions for hypothetical commutes.

Class: 2.3 Comparing Routines

Students will compare their routines in México and in the States, talking about differences and similarities. They will practice reflexive and non-reflexive regular and irregular verbs in the present tense, and review the vocabulary used to talk about time, including telling the time, day and night, days of the week, months of the year etc. Students will present a list of usual weekend activities in their hometowns and, in a second step, choose possible leisure activities from Mérida’s arts, and cultural events calendar.

Class: 2.4 Your Routine, Your Neighborhood

Students will present a slide show designed to persuade viewers to visit their neighborhoods. They will talk about activities, stores, atmosphere, favorite places, and special location within the city. Subsequently, there will be a review session for Test 1, before students take the test.

Week 3

Class: 3.1 Buying Groceries

Project: Create a slide show Life in Mérida 2: Gastronomy/In the restaurant

Students will make a grocery list and do role plays simulating grocery shopping situations. They will also talk about food in general and let the group know about their favorite meals. The grammatical topic will be demonstrative adjectives and pronouns. Different ways of expressing likes and dislikes will be reviewed.

Class: 3.2 Preparing a Recipe

Students will present their favorite recipes and learn how to prepare typical Argentinian dishes. Differences between Yucatán and American food will also be discussed. Students will give their opinion about healthy and unhealthy foods and ingredients. As for grammar, stem-changing irregular verbs will be reviewed.

Class: 3.3 Planning Meals for Argentine Menu

Students will practice how to order at a restaurant and a bar. They learn what dishes are typically served in México at which special events. We will also talk about food as a cultural phenomenon. The grammatical focus will be on irregular verbs (querer, poder, preferir, tener) and some idioms with tener.

Class: 3.4 My Favorite Restaurant in Mérida and My Favorite Meal

Students will present a two-step project. In the first part, they share their favorite restaurant in Mérida and talk about the dishes to be found there. In the second part, they will present their favorite Yucatán meal and explain how it is prepared, specifying ingredients and cooking techniques. Subsequently, there will be a review session for Test 2, before students take the test.
