Programs offering course: Community Public Health
Language of instruction: Thai
U.S. semester credits: 3.00
Contact hours: 65.00
Term: Spring 2021

Course Description

This course is offered for students who can demonstrate a diverse use of vocabulary, a solid understanding of grammar patterns, and clear pronunciation. The aim of the course is (1) to advance students’ communication capabilities in reading and writing at both casual and academic levels, (2) to improve student’s verbal communication skills in order to participate effectively in conversations on a variety of topics in formal and informal settings, and (3) to use the issues that the program looks at as tools to understand other ways of life while staying in various communities. Course materials are taken from current literature sources, newspapers, and current articles on focus issues. The course content is divided into two parts. The first part, students will be expected to advance in verbal and written communication skills and be able to summarize the main ideas of the passages or dialogues they listen to or read, and comment about them. For the second part, students will learn about specific topics in accordance with the issues examined in the core course.

Learning Objectives

By completing this course, students will:

- Master enough of the target language to be able to understand and make basic requests, to describe, in basic terms, places, people, events, and their needs and feelings, and to meet their daily needs and interact with locals on a daily basis.
- Learn culturally important expressions and use them in appropriate contexts.
- Demonstrate their willingness, confidence, and skill in engaging actively and independently in the host culture by initiating conversations in the target language with staff, fellow students and locals on a regular basis.
- Be able to demonstrate via pre- and post-testing based on ACTFL guidelines that they have improved at least two ACTFL sublevels in their ability to describe, narrate, evaluate, and persuade on familiar topics (i.e. demonstrate increased fluency, accuracy, and appropriate use of language).

Course Requirements

Assignment & Quizzes

In order to promote students’ speaking and writing fluency, advanced Thai students are assigned 3 oral and writing assignments connected to their homestay to reflect their experience. The assignments require that students interview local people in the homestay to learn their ways of life and write up the story and present to the teachers. The objective is to increase writing skill, self-confidence, relaxation for speaking to native speakers, enjoyment, and improvement in speaking Thai.

Thai quiz is performed in a form of student giving answers in writing form. The questions include different syntactical/grammatical structures of Thai language learned in class following with writing prompts essay by choosing one of the provided topics.

As part of the Thai language course, we provide "Thai Fun Activity" sessions where students have fun while using the language through various activities. You will enjoy these fun activities with your Thai instructors and other people that work with the program.

As a supplement to classroom language instruction, peer tutors are provided for the linguistic needs of each individual, including listening, speaking, pronunciation, tones, grammar, reading, writing, vocabulary expansion, etc. These mandatory, one-on-one language tutorials provide extra conversational practice and help with homework assignments. Students and tutors meet for nine sessions of structured practice for an average of 1 hour per session. If you have any problems working with your assigned peer tutors, or you would like optional, extra peer tutor hours, please contact the instructor.

Midterm Exam

Students give answers to describe and write opinion on academic reading comprehension stories from academic articles, entertainment, science and technology or myths. Students are also asked to write opinion answers on different styles of writing for example; persuasive, convincing, compare, narrative and expository. Students are also tested on his/her speaking skill to give verbal answer to structured questions in order to practice elaborating on arguments or reasons that support the opinion or point of view in Thai language.

Final Exam

Term Paper

After all the topical learning sessions, students must choose one topic they are interested in for further study in order to write a 1,000-word term paper as their final project, with appropriate use of words and grammatical patterns.

Thai Oral Presentation

In the final week of the program, students must prepare a Thai oral presentation. This is an effective communicative activity to promote their oral proficiency and increase their confidence in speaking Thai. Students will be evaluated by teachers and other students. The objectives of the activity are:

- To provide a stimulating experience for students in training themselves to have confidence while speaking in public
- To help bridge the gap between language study and language use
- To be able to collect, inquire, organize and construct information
- To provide opportunity to enhance team work
- To help students become active and autonomous learners

Participation

Participation is the key to progress. Students are expected to be active learners and should contribute to class activities and various exercises.

Attendance

Students may be excused from class only with the permission of the Center Director. Students who miss class for any reason should attempt to catch up on their own.
