Course Description
The land-owning feudal ruling class is both blamed for stagnation of Japanese society and revered as the core cultural traditions. This course covers Medieval and Early Modern Japan examining major societal developments, while evaluating the applicability of the Marxist concept of feudalism to the Japanese historical context.

Learning Objectives
By completing this course, students will:

- Describe the major agencies, institutions, actors and milestone events in late feudal Japan, and analyze the power dynamics between them in Tokugawa politics, economic development and social trends
- Explain the major economic, political and social changes brought about by the rise of the Tokugawa regime and apply it to the difficulties that the Tokugawa regime faced when it had to carry out modernization reforms
- Analyze the major factors behind the decay and decline of feudalism in Late Tokugawa period and the rise of modernity in Japan
- Evaluate the reasons for Japan’s shift towards modernization reforms in the Late Tokugawa period and the attractiveness for modernity in all sectors of Japanese society, government and businesses
- Analyze it in economic, technological or social mobilizational terms

Course Prerequisites

TOTAL 100%

Course Requirements
Journal
You will be expected to post a short journal entry of 125 to 150 words to the online discussion group by 11:59pm about the readings assigned that day. You must also respond to at least two posts made by two different classmates to generate discussion online. These posts and responses will aid in the in-class discussion to be held the following day.
Presentation

You will perform an in-class presentation on a topic of your choosing, which relates to materials of the course. The presentation should not exceed 15 minutes. Depending on class enrollment you will conduct your research either individually or as a group. You must submit a proposal and have your topic approved by the instructor by Week 6. The proposal should be 750 to 1000 words and include (1) Topic you will present on; (2) How it is relevant to the course; (3) The critical viewpoints that you hope to discover through research and share with the class; and (4) An outline of how your presentation will be structured. Depending on the nature of their project, students may be required to use out-of-class time to make field visits, or to explore library and other resources. Students will be advised on their project proposal in terms of how to organize such out-of-class work.

Critical Essays (x2)

You will complete two critical essays of 1000 to 1200 words each. Your essays must analyze key concepts explored in class, and must follow conventions of academic writing. Each essay is worth 10% of your grade.

Final Exam

You will write short essays in answer to three questions prompted by the instructor. Each answer must be 500 to 600 words (total word count of 1500 to 1800 words). Your answers must demonstrate sufficient understanding of key concepts explored in class and must follow conventions of academic writing.

Class Participation

Participation is valued as meaningful contribution in the digital and tangible classroom, utilizing the resources and materials presented to students as part of the course. Meaningful contribution requires students to be prepared in advance of each class session and to have regular attendance. Students must clearly demonstrate they have engaged with the materials as directed, for example, through classroom discussions, online discussion boards, peer-to-peer feedback (after presentations), interaction with guest speakers, and attentiveness on co-curricular and outside-of classroom activities.

Attendance

Regular class attendance is required throughout the program, and all absences will result in a lower participation grade for any affected CIEE course. Due to the intensive schedules for short-term programs, absences that constitute more than 10% of the total course will result in a written warning.

Students who transfer from one CIEE class to another during the add/drop period will not be considered absent from the first session(s) of their new class, provided they were marked present for the first session(s) of their original class. Otherwise, the absence(s) from the original class carry over to the new class and count against the grade in that class.

For CIEE classes, excessively tardy (over 15 minutes late) students must be marked absent. Attendance policies also apply to any required co-curricular class excursion or event, as well as to Internship, Service Learning, or required field placement. Students who miss class for personal travel, including unforeseen delays that arise as a result of personal travel, will be marked as absent. No make-up or re-sit opportunity will be provided.

Attendance policies also apply to any required class excursion, with the exception that some class excursions cannot accommodate any tardiness, and students risk being marked as absent if they fail to be present at the appointed time.

Absences will lead to the following penalties:
