Programs offering course:	Communications, New Media and Journalism English, International Business and Culture
Language of instruction:	English
U.S. semester credits:	3
Contact hours:	45
Term:	Fall 2020

Course Description

This course is designed to prepare students for an increasingly interconnected global labor market. Students will learn how to observe, interact with co-workers, recognize cultural differences, compare teamwork and interpersonal interactions in different cultures, apply academic knowledge in a business setting, identify opportunities to create value within the company, and to research, propose and present their report before a panel of judges.

Learning Objectives

By completing this course, students will:

- Develop the ability to identify the Spanish working environment and report on its characteristics.
- Compare and contrast team work and working style differences between US and Spain.
- Explore how to become more sensitive to cultural differences, interactions, and experiences.
- Identify opportunities to create value in the work environment.
- Enhance skills in identifying problems, strategic questioning, reflection and meaning making.

Methods of Instruction

The Internship Program is composed of the following sections:

On site Work:

All students must work a minimum of 100 hours on site with an internship sponsor. The job responsibilities of the intern and the weekly work schedule will be negotiable between the student and the professional tutor. The tutor will evaluate the participation, professionalism, punctuality and completion of professional objectives of the student.

Academic tutorials:

Apart from the onsite work experience, this Internship Program has a strong and challenging academic component exposing students to a professional experience in Spain and the European Union while broadening their perspective of their international professional experience through a series of guided discussions and individual assignments, a final paper and a final audiovisual project presentation, in addition to required readings and require meetings with the CIEE Internship Coordinator. The seminar helps students to evaluate their development in the workplace during their on-site work experience, through discussions of organizational theory and intercultural skills for business.

The academic tutorials will be a place of encounter for the explanation and debate of a variety of intercultural topics and concepts in the professional world. The tutorials will be weekly and will help us to identify theoretical background of intercultural adaptation issues through different readings and apply them to experiential situations.

Academic Honesty

Students are expected to act in accordance with their university and CIEE’s standards of conduct concerning plagiarism and academic dishonesty. Use of online translators for work in Spanish will result in an automatic failure.

Assessment and Final Grade

1. Individual Assignments & Class Work	15%
2. Work Attendance & Performance	20%
3. Meetings with CIEE Internship Coordinator	10%
4. Final Paper	25%
5. Final Oral Presentation	20%
6. Class Participation	10%
TOTAL	100%

Course Requirements

Individual Assignments & Class Work

Student progress will be evaluated according to the student’s assignments. The student will answer a series of specific questions relative to the company in which he or she works or related to his or her experience. In this section, the student will make his/her own observations and commentaries. Students will complete a total of 4 individual assignments. Deadline for assignments will be communicated onsite during the first week of classes. For each assignment, students will need to apply those principles and concepts they have learned from lectures, readings and class discussion. Use appropriate terminology will be required.

Grades will be determined using the following criteria:

- “A” assignments will do “B” level, and will also regularly discuss personal experiences, real-world examples and apply course concepts effectively.
- “B” assignments will do “C” level, and also show a serious attempt to grapple with exercises using the course concepts and an occasional treatment of real-world examples.
- “C” assignments will have an entry on each classroom exercise but little more. This is the minimum.

Work Attendance & Performance

Your internship is a professional commitment and you are expected to complete the hours agreed upon between you, your internship site supervisor, and the on-site CIEE staff. All students must work a minimum of 100 hours on site with an internship sponsor, though many students work 10-15 hours per week. The student will track and provide documentation of hours completed at the conclusion of the internship, which will include the signature of the internship site supervisor. The internship site supervisor will also complete the CIEE evaluation of student performance.

The job responsibilities of the intern and the weekly work schedule will be negotiable between the student and the professional tutor. The tutor will evaluate the participation, professionalism, punctuality and completion of professional objectives of the student. In order to be able to pass this class, students must complete a minimum of 100 hours at the placement.

Meetings with CIEE Internship Coordinator

The seminar is also combined with different individual meetings with the CIEE Coordinator, to review different aspects of the internship experience: the onsite tutor's evaluation, the intercultural adaptation process, the management of critical incidents, among others.

Final Paper

The project (4-6 pages) will be related to some aspect of the student's internship. Topics may relate to the sector to which the company belongs, specific projects or market research. It is important to apply those principles and concepts you've learned from lectures, readings and class discussion. Use appropriate terminology.

- Minimum number of pages: 4
- Arial font, size 10 / interlined 1.5

Final Oral Presentation

Students will be required to present on their paper and share their experience with classmates, for which the use of audio-visual material is required. Projects should be presented on time, and do not exceed 5 minutes. Through this means, students will share their own experiential learning experience to their classmates. Professionalism and appropriated use of language and vocabulary are expected. After the presentation, students may be required to answer a series of questions to defend the presented material.

Class Participation

This includes attendance, prepared participation in the exercise, and class discussions.

Professionalism

- Appropriated use of technology in the classroom. It is not acceptable to use laptop computers or cell phones to read your email, send or read text messages, etc. Use of these technologies for non-class purposes will severely impact your grade!
- Arrive on class on time.

Class attendance

- Please, read carefully the information under the Attendance Policy paragraph. We rely heavily on classroom attendance and exercises. Class attendance is critical. If you "must" miss class, you MUST notify your professor by 3pm on the day before class. Missing classes without informing your professor by 3 pm the day before the class makes the class and exercises difficult to administer and inconveniences your classmates and your professor. If you are ill or otherwise have a last-minute emergency, notify your professor as soon as you know that you will not be able to attend.

Class preparation:

- Prior preparation will be required for some of the classes. More information on those assignments will be distributed closer to the due dates.

Discussion and contribution

- Students are expected to actively contribute to the class discussion based on the readings.
- In many of our activities, students achieve scores. Note that your grade will not be based directly on your scores in these exercises. Rather, your participation grade will reflect the thoroughness of your preparation, your engagement in the exercise and the extent to which you make a connection between what you experience during the activity and concepts discussed in class.

Attendance

Attendance policy

For CIEE classes, excessively tardy (over 15 minutes late) students must be marked absent. Attendance policies also apply to any required co-curricular class excursion or event, as well as to Internship, Service Learning, or required field placement. Students who miss class for personal travel will be marked as absent and unexcused. No make-up or re-sit opportunity will be provided.

An absence in a CIEE course will only be considered excused if:

- a doctor's note is provided
- a CIEE staff member verifies that the student was too ill to attend class
- evidence is provided of a family emergency

Persistent absenteeism (students exceeding 10% or more of total course hours missed, or violations of the attendance policies in more than one class) may lead to a written warning from the Center/Resident/Academic Director, notification to the student's home school, and/or dismissal from the program in addition to reduction in class grade(s). Students with unexcused absences exceeding 20% of the total course hours will fail the course. Written warnings and home school notification should happen well before the absenteeism causes the student to fail the class, so the student has an opportunity for corrective action.

Absentism	Penalty
Up to 10%	None
Between 10-20%	5-point reduction per absence in total grade
More than 20%	Fail and possible expulsion from the program

Course schedule is subject to change due to study tours, excursions, and local holidays. Final schedules will be included in the final syllabus provided to students on site.
