Course code: ANTH 4001 CSCS / SPAN 4002 CSCS
Programs offering course: Advanced Liberal Arts, Business and Society, Communications, New Media and Journalism Spanish, Liberal Arts
Language of instruction: Spanish
U.S. semester credits: 3.00
Contact hours: 45.00
Term: Spring 2021

Course Description
The principal objective of this course is to introduce the students to the traditions and customs which form a part of the contemporary Andalusian society so that they may better understand the mentality and the way of life of the community in which they will be living while abroad. To this end, the students will experience the customs and traditions that have developed in Andalusia; the importance of history, the levels and layers that, since its origin, have formed the Andalusia of today: rural, urban, cosmopolitan, Western and Eastern Andalusia, and all the cultural and historical heritage that it possesses. Addressing the historical, political, sociological, and artistic aspects, this course will provide the students with a more profound sense, understanding and experience of the host culture.

Inter-relating theory with practice, students will not only examine the theoretical and aesthetical elements of popular customs, but also increase their knowledge and understanding of the society in which they are living, as well as offering them a new perspective from which they might more deeply understand the complex reality of Spain and Andalusia.

Learning Objectives
By completing this course, students will:

- Analyze the visions and images of Andalusia and Andalusians throughout history.
- Compare and contrast the typical images of Andalusia and Andalusians.
- Recognize and value cultural heritage as a sign of identity.
- Analyze and discuss with a tolerant, open and participatory attitude.

Course Prerequisites
4 semesters of college-level Spanish (or equivalent). Students need to have a GPA of at least 2.5.

Methods of Instruction
Once the specific terminology and basic concepts of the course have been introduced, the class will conduct a brief historical summary which will examine the different cultures that have inhabited Andalusia and have contributed to the traditions and popular manifestations which are known today. This exercise will function as a means of discarding the great myths concerning the image of Andalusia, which still persists today in many parts of the world, even throughout much of Spain. The course will examine how the image of Andalusia has evolved throughout history, in particular since the 19th century, to one of a region in constant fiesta; and how today people are working to create a new concept of Andalusia.

Given the nature of the course, the class will have visits outside of the classroom to better understand the material, with the possibilities to find out firsthand how certain popular traditions continue to develop.

Various debates and issues that arise in class will be addressed in such a way that the students will be able to express their opinions, ideas and personal values by participating in classroom discussions and critiques. The active participation of the student is highly valued and the different questions and debates which may arise during class will be guided so as to encourage critical and analytical thinking skills.

Important Note
Given the brevity of class time, some of the activities will be outside of the classroom, as well as outside of class times. These occasions will be announced ahead of time so that all students are aware of them. Additionally, the schedule may be altered to include important events that come up in the cultural context of the city that are related to the course material.
Textbook: According to the characteristics of the course and diversity of the sources that will be used, our sourcebook will be a compilation of the mandatory readings grouped according to the subject matter of the course and made up of subject-related texts.

Academic honesty: Students are expected to act in accordance with their university and CIEE’s standards of conduct concerning plagiarism and academic dishonesty. Use of online translators for work in Spanish will result in an automatic failure.

Apart from the journal, there will be a midterm and final exam. If a student is caught cheating, or with the intention of cheating, during any exam, the exam will be confiscated, and the grade of that exam will be a 0, apart from the consequences associated with this action.

Linguistic resource center: The students are obliged to use the writing center to receive help with their assignments and to study for exams.

Course Requirements

Midterm Exam

Final Exam

The exams for this course will be designed for the student to comment on various images, chosen by the professor that were analyzed and discussed throughout the semester, as well as short answer essays. The criteria for the analysis will vary from formal and technical to thematic levels of meaning, symbolism, etc. The student will be evaluated on his/her understanding of the subject matter, critical/analytical skills and Spanish written expression as well. The use of dictionaries of any kind is strictly forbidden during exams. Any cause of doubt regarding cheating is motive for the professor to take away the exam before the student has finished.

Exam Description:

The midterm and the final exam will be structured in the same way. The first part of the exam will be of images used in the class presentations. The students will comment on the photos evaluating and relating it to the theme the image is referencing. The second part of the exam will consist of theory questions over the readings related to each theme or over the different content that we have investigated.

Assignments

Daily Visits Portfolio

Each student will be required to keep a journal of their observations on all of the visits that are conducted throughout the semester for this class along with those that are organized by Student Services. This journal should be between 6 and 10 pages long written in WORD with ARIEL font size 12, double spaced. The final date to turn this assignment in is indicated in the section Weekly Course Outline.

-Journal of visits: Linguistic competence, social, cultural and artistic competences included will be evaluated. Originality in the elaboration of the work and in the selection of visits, as well as the adaptation of the comments made in class.

All students will be required to read “Don Juan Tenorio” by José de Zorrilla, as well as complete a worksheet about the reading. The due date is indicated in the weekly schedule.

Class Participation

Attendance, interest, active participation in relation to the topic, classwork, having material and course work ready and prepared for each class.

The active class participation of the student is of the utmost importance and will be valued positively in the final grade. Attendance is, therefore, obligatory. The student who attends class will have a minimum of 6 and a maximum of 10 possible participation points. The student who does not attend class will receive a 0. To contribute to the participation grade, the professor may conduct short pop quizzes at the beginning of class without previous notice.

Attendance

Students are not allowed to miss class for unjustified reasons. For each unexcused absence, the participation portion of the grade will be lowered. Hence, it will be very difficult to receive a 100 in the class. Please keep this in mind. If a student misses class twice without a valid excuse (a note from a physician in the event of an illness), then the professor will automatically lower the final grade by 5 points (on a 100-point scale) for each class missed thereafter. Students with 6 or more absences will fail the course.

Students should arrive to class on time. Arriving more than 15 minutes late for a class will count as an unexcused absence. Please note that an excused absence is one that is accompanied by a doctor's note: signed stamped and dated. Travelling and/or travel delays are not considered valid reasons for missing class.

* Notes from a physician will only be valid and admitted by the Program Manager if the doctor confirms that the visit could not have been arranged at another time, or that the student was too ill to attend class that day.

Course schedule is subject to change due to study tours, excursions, and local holidays. Final schedules will be included in the final syllabus provided to students on site.
